

WARRIOR IN WAITING

Received 18 November 2021

At this time of preparation, as you wait to be sent out, listen to every instruction I give you as the Captain of the Hosts.

No longer a civilian, always a soldier. Prepared in the furnace to endure a furnace. Set your face as a flint, adjust your disposition. Think as a warrior, move as a warrior and understand as a warrior. Have I not said that when you become a man, a son in My Kingdom, you put away childish things? The time for games is over. Now is the time for war. Making war not in your own wisdom and understanding. Not in the ways of man, but in the Spirit and by the Spirit. For you can do nothing of your own. Therefore, dependence and obedience is of utmost importance. Instant obedience to My commands. To not flinch, back off or stand back in the face of adversity, but to advance one step at a time, one foot at a time on the enemy's neck.

Time for games is over.

Warrior in waiting, wait upon Me as I renew your strength as the eagle's. My eagles fly above storms. So, wait expectantly for My call. It will come and when it does, you will be ready. Do not doubt. Do not fear and do not be anxious.

Look unto Me, follow Me and obey Me.

I am every with you.
